

Supply Chain Planning - Graduate Certificate

---

The Graduate Certificate in Supply Chain Planning is designed to provide advance and specialized education for executives and professionals working in or planning to transition to the supply chain field. The curriculum places emphasis on concepts of strategic planning, informed decision-making and supply management trade-offs. Collectively, this graduate certificate provides students a rigorous training in managerial quantitative tools and analytical skills that can be used to source, design, plan and manage modern supply chains.