

Professional and Continuing Education Non-credit Programs and Certificates

---

In addition to the academic programs offered by Auburn University as an accredited land-grant institution, Auburn provides non-credit professional and continuing education training and certificate programs available to learners in classroom and on-line formats. Auburn University follows national guidelines for non-credit program administration and awarding of continuing education units (CEUs) to participants as appropriate. Where applicable to the subject matter, programs also follow guidelines for certifications established by other cognate associations, professional societies, boards, and certifying agencies as required. A listing of professional, technical, and career programming, courses, and certificates is provided at <https://www.auburn.edu/outreach/opce/>.